

HERTFORDSHIRE CHESS ASSOCIATION NEWSLETTER

No.36 December 1999

Editor: J Fraser-Mitchell

EDITORIAL

This is the last Newsletter of the Millennium and there are so many good games in it that I've had to leave a couple to the next issue. One of these delights to look forward to is a game by John Sharp, who is currently in his 50th successive season for the Herts correspondence team!

Along with the Millennium, there is another important anniversary approaching – the Centenary of the Herts Chess Association, which was formed in 1901 (we don't know more precisely than that – can anybody help?). At the most recent Exec meeting it was decided that all clubs would be asked to make a contribution to HCA funds in order to celebrate the Centenary in an appropriate style. A provisional calendar of events is given below. It would be nice if all clubs could provide at least one volunteer each to help with the organisation, and thus ensure that the job isn't left to just a few.

Jeremy Fraser-Mitchell

Date	Proposed Event(s)
Sept 2000	Herts vs Southern Counties (50 / 100 boards) – could be later in season to allow more time for organisation
Nov 2000	“President’s XI” representative match
Dec 2000	Upgrade Hitchin Congress (normal activity) to British Championship Qualifier (NB. No Maidstone qualifier in 2000?)
Jan 2001	Juniors vs Veterans representative match
Mar 2001	Match vs Herts twinned region (Burgundy or Rheinland-Pfalz) on Saturday before Letchworth congress
April 2001	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Host SCCU U18 jamboree</li><li>• Final of County Individual KO</li></ul>
Aug 2001	Hitchin qualifier plays in the British Championships
Sept 2001	Host Counties Rapidplay
Nov 2001	Dinner, maybe coupled with GM simul

Other Events during the Centenary year: (a) Problem-solving competition; (b) Correspondence match; (c) County-wide Individual Knockout (each club has qualifiers for finals in April 2001) – maybe merge with or replace Capel & Burn. Possibly graded sections. (d) Put together a history of Herts Chess and / or collection of best games

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Last weekend (December 4th - 5th), we held our 46th annual Hertfordshire Congress at Hitchin Boys' School. Numbers were slightly up on last year's event, and early estimates suggest that we made a modest profit this time. More importantly, the event produced a great deal of hard fought chess, with Hertfordshire players taking a large share of the honours. Unlike last year, the open event failed to attract any Grandmasters. However, on the positive side, this meant that the event had a genuine 'Hertfordshire feel' to it. Top seed Simon Knott showed his class by leading the field with 4.5 points from 5, but only after winning a tense last round game. His opponent in that game, David Lemoir, now lives in Norfolk, but was for many years a Letchworth player. Going into the last round, he led the tournament with four straight wins, and despite losing to Simon, finished clear second ahead of more fancied players such as Stephen Swanson and Lorin D'Costa. These two contested a very tough game in the last round, with Lorin coming out on top, and thus securing the Glynne Jones Trophy for the best junior performance in the adult tournaments. In fact, Lorin only edged out last year's trophy winner (and fellow Royston member!) Richard Mycroft on tie break. Altogether a very successful weekend for Hertfordshire chess, and I would like to thank the team of organisers and helpers who made the whole event possible. Well done everyone!

John Denton

SELECTED GAMES FROM THE HITCHIN CONGRESS

D.Lemoir - C.Wheatley
Hitchin Open (1), 1999

1.e4 Nc6 2.Nf3 d6 3.d4 Nf6 4.Nc3 Bg4 5.d5 Nb8
presumably 'book' though it looks a bit slow 6.Be2 g6
7.0-0 Bg7 8.Bg5 c5 9.Nd2 in typical Benoni fashion, White's knight heads for c4 9...Bxe2 10.Qxe2 Na6 and in typical Benoni fashion Black's goes to b4 or c7 11.Nc4 0-0
12.Rad1 Rb8 13.a4 Nb4 14.f4 Qd7 15.e5 dxe5 [15...Ne8
16.exd6 exd6 17.Be7 and Black loses the exchange.
However he gets some compensation, and it's certainly better than what happened in the game! eg. 17...Nc7 18.Bxf8 Rxf8 19.Ne3 Bd4 20.Kh1 Re8] 16.fxe5 Ne8

17.e6! fxe6 18.Rxf8+ Kxf8 19.dxe6 Qc6 20.Ne5 1-0

S.Peters - D.Lam
Hitchin Open (2), 1999

1.d4 Nf6 2.c4 g6 3.Nc3 d5 4.cxd5 Nxd5 5.e4 Nxc3 6.bxc3
Bg7 7.Bc4 c5 8.Ne2 0-0 9.Be3 Nc6 10.0-0 Na5 11.Bd3
Bg4 12.f3 cxd4 13.cxd4 Be6 14.d5 This is all theory. The main alternative at this point was to sacrifice a pawn with 14.Rc1. Other moves are too slow to cause Black any problems. The point of playing ...Bg4 to force 12.f3 is that sometimes Qb6(+) is a vital defensive resource 14...Bxa1 15.Qxa1 f6 the best move, otherwise Bh6 regains the exchange due to the threat of mate on g7 16.Bh6 the most direct and critical. Moves such as Kh1 (so that Qb6 is not check), or Nf4/Nd4 (so that dxe6 is a threat) are too slow, but subtle refinements such as Bd2, Qb1 or Rb1 are also playable. Refer to a book on the opening for analysis of this position, since there isn't space here 16...Re8

[16...Qb6+ 17.Kh1 Rfd8 is not so good, since the queen is now exposed and after 18.Rb1 all Black's pieces will end up huddling on the back rank to escape the hounding by the White forces] 17.Kh1 Bd7 [17...Rc8 18.Qd4 (18.Nf4 Bd7 19.e5 Nc4 20.e6 Ba4 is good for Black) 18...Bd7 19.Qxa7 Nc4! Furman-Suetin, 21st USSR ch 1954. Black offers a second pawn to seize the initiative and completely blunt White's attack] 18.e5 e6

[18...Qc7 this is Euwe's analysis of 17.Kh1, but after 19.e6 Ba4 20.Qb1 Rec8 21.Bxg6 Bc2 22.Bf7+ White has the advantage]

19.Nf4 exd5 [19...f5 20.Qe1; 19...fxe5 20.Qxe5] 20.exf6
Kf7 21.Qd4 Be6 22.Bg5 Qb6 23.Qe5 Nc6 this natural-looking move may be a mistake, since on a5 the knight keeps b7 defended and also does not obstruct the queen's defence of e6. Better therefore is ...Rac8, since 24.Rb1?
Qxb1+ wins at once for Black. However it's understandable that Black's king is feeling the draught.

24.Qe1 Nd4 25.Qh4 Rh8 26.Rb1 Qc6 27.Qf2 Nf5 28.g4
Nd6 29.Nxe6 White's clever play has driven away all defenders of the bishop apart from the king. Now there's no way to stop White's queen getting to the heart of Black's position 29...Kxe6 30.Qe2+ Kd7 31.Qe7+ Kc8 32.f7
Nxf7 33.Rc1 Qxc1+ 34.Bxc1 1-0

S.Swanson - R.Maullin
Hitchin Open (2), 1999

1.e4 e6 2.d4 d5 3.e5 c5 4.c3 Nc6 5.Be3 Nge7 Black can also play 5...Qb6 trying to exploit the absence of the bishop from the defence of b2. One amusing possibility is 5...Qb6 6.Qd2 Bd7 7.Nf3 Rc8 8.Bd3? cd 9.cd? Nb4 10.b3
(else ...Nxd3 & ...Qxb2) 10... Rc1+! 0-1 6.Nf3 Nf5 7.Bd3
Bd7? (not realising Steve Swanson prefers knights to bishops!) 8.Bxf5 exf5 9.dxe5 Qc7 10.0-0 0-0-0 brave but the best of a bad job [10...Nxe5 11.Qxd5] 11.b4 h6

12.Na3 now Nb5 is a threat as well as the pawn storm. Meanwhile Black struggles to complete his development 12...Nxe5 13.Nxe5 Qxe5 14.Bd4 Qf4 15.Re1 f6 16.Qd3 Qc7 17.Nb5 Bxb5 18.Qxb5 Qd7 19.Qd3 1-0

Black can only sit and wait for White to play a2-a3-a5-a6, so he decided the best move in the position was "resigns"

K.Nicholas - N.Beveridge [C12]
Hitchin Open (2), 1999

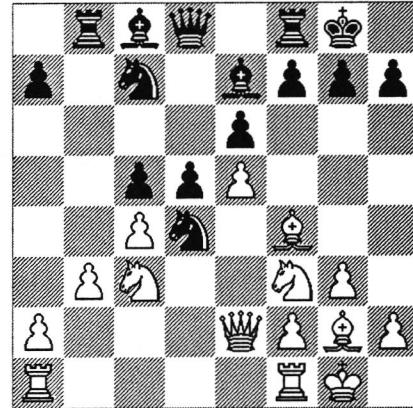

1.e4 e6 2.d4 d5 3.Nc3 Nf6 4.Bg5 Bb4 5.e5 h6 6.Bd2 Bxc3 7.bxc3 Ne4 8.Qg4 g6 ...Kf8 is also possible, leading to an unclear position 9.Bd3 Nxd2 10.Kxd2 c5 11.h4 Nc6 12.Nf3 Psakhis suggests 12.Rh3 or 12.Qf4, but there's certainly nothing wrong with the move played 12...Qa5 13.Rab1 [13.Qf4 to protect e5 as well as eyeing the weak points in Black's position 13...cxd4 14.Nxd4 Nxd4 15.Qxd4 Bd7 16.Rab1 b6 is about equal] 13...cxd4 14.Nxd4 Nxe5 very risky, but so are other moves! [14...Nxd4 15.Qxd4 Qc7!? (intending ...Bd7, and 16.Qf4 can be met by ...f5!) 16.Bb5+ Bd7 17.Bxd7+ Qxd7 18.c4 0-0-0!? 19.Qxa7 dxc4+ who gets mated first?] 15.Bb5+! Kf8 hoping to reach sanctuary on g7 but he never gets time 16.Qf4 Qc7 17.Qf6 Rg8 18.f3 just to stop ...Ng4, but also tempts Black into further trouble 18...a6 the last chance was ...Nc6 19.Rhe1 Nxf3+ 20.gxf3 axb5

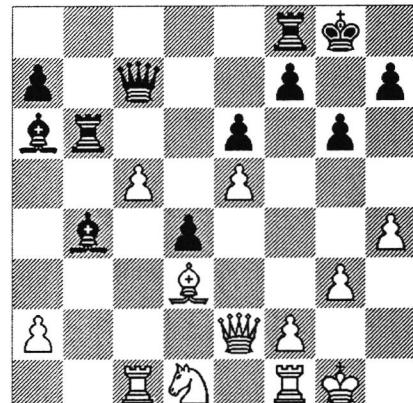

21.Rxe6! Rxa2 22.Rbe1 Bd7 23.Re8+! 1-0

D.Lemoir - S.Knott [C00]
Hitchin Open (5), 1999

1.e4 e6 2.d3 d5 3.Qe2 rather committal. 3.Nd2 is the normal move 3...Nf6 [3...Nc6 4.Nf3 e5 is what Black should try if he wants to really bash White. However Black's more restrained handling of the opening in the game also proves very effective] 4.Nf3 c5 5.g3 Nc6 6.Bg2 Be7 7.0-0 0-0 8.e5 Ne8 the natural retreat ...Nd7 would leave Black with a few traffic problems organising his development 9.c4 this looks fishy - a more normal continuation would be c3 and Nbd2 followed by a gradual k-side push. The q-side is Black's natural territory 9...Nc7 10.Nc3 Rb8 11.Bf4 b5 12.b3 bxc4 13.dxc4 Nd4!

simple play has allowed Black to seize the initiative and once he's got it he doesn't let go 14.Nxd4 cxd4 15.Nd1 dxc4 16.bxc4 Ba6 17.Be4 Nd5! 18.Bd2 Qc7 19.Bd3 Nb4 20.Bxb4 Bxb4 21.Rc1 g6 now White is completely tied up, Black just eliminates any whiff of counterplay before rounding up the weak White pawns 22.h4 Rb6 23.c5 looking for a tactical way out of the bind 23...Bxd3 24.cxb6 Qxc1 25.Qxd3 Qc5 26.bxa7 Ra8 although he's got rid of the weak c-pawn, there are still plenty of other pawn weaknesses for White to worry about 27.f4 Rxa7 28.Rf2 Ra3 29.Qf1 Rxg3+ the end 30.Kh2 Rg4 31.Kh3 h5 32.Rf3 Qc2 33.Nf2 Qf5 34.Qd3 Rxf4+ 35.Qxf5 Rxf5 36.Rxf5 exf5 37.Nd3 Ba3 38.Kg3 Kf8 0-1

The match against Essex was defaulted (however there's a possibility Essex might offer to play the match at some stage in the future)

Tilling, C - Brewis, A     Herts v Surrey U100, 1999
1.Nf3 c5 2.e4 Nc6 3.d4 cxd4 4.Nxd4 Nf6 5.Nc3 a6 6.Bc4
 asking for a kicking later 6...e6 7.Bg5 Be7 8.0-0 0-0 9.Qd2? b5 one kicking coming up 10.Bb3 better was Nxc6 and then Bd3 10...b4 11.Nce2 Nxe4 12.Nxc6?

Bxe7 would restrict the damage to just one pawn. Now White loses a piece [12.Bxe7 Nxd2 13.Bxd8 Nxf1?! 14.Bg5 h6 15.Bc1 Nhx2 16.Kxh2] 12...Nxd2 13.Nxd8 Bxg5 because the N(d8) is trapped ! 14.Rfd1 Nxb3 15.axb3 Rxd8 16.Rd6 Be7 17.Rb6? Bc5 not content with getting a knight trapped, White does the same with his rook ! 0-1

Answers to "What Happened Next"

1. taken from Norwood's column in the Daily Telegraph (Weekend section):

K.Hemingway - D.Rumens, Hitchin, 1977 concluded 13.Rxf6+! gxf6 14.Ne6+! Bxe6 15.Bh6+ Kg8 16.Nxf6# 1-0

2. You may have seen this one in the papers recently as well: Sutovsky,E (2587) - Fraser-Mitchell, J (2066), Monarch International (I.o.M.), 1999 went 17.Nf5!! 1-0 (White threatens 18.Nd6+, and also 18.Bh5 Qxh5 19.Ng7+. If Black takes the knight then 18.Re1 Ne5 (otherwise Bh5+ is a killer) 19.dxe5 fxe5 20.Qxe5+ and Black loses a rook.

3. C. Young - B.McNally, Hitchin Open (1), 1999: 14... Ndf6?? 15.hxg4 1-0 (Chess blindness - was Black thinking he could have a knight and a pawn on g4 simultaneously ?)

4. (an easy one) C. Young - D.Lemoir, Hitchin Open (2), 1999: 29... Rxf3! 30.gxf3 Qxg3+ 31.Kh1 Qxf3+ 32.Kg1 Re2 0-1

5. C.Wheatley - J.Fraser-Mitchell, Hitchin Open (2), 1999: White tried 17.Nxc6? Rxc6 18.Rb3 but was floored by 18... Re6! 19.Rxe6 Qc1+ 20.Nd1 fxe6 21.Re3 Bxc2 22.Rxe6 0-1. However, a move earlier, with White's rook on f1 and the Black bishop on e6, the combination would have won ! (16.Nxc6! Rxc6 17.Rb3 Qa6 (forced) 18.b5)

6. D.Lemoir - S.Swanson, Hitchin Open (2), 1999: Black has neglected his development for the entire game (the rook and bishop still haven't moved!) and paid the price as a result. 39.Ra2! 1-0, since if 39... Qd4 then 40.c3 Qxc5 41.Rh8+ Kd7 42.Qd8+ Ke6 43.Re8#

7. J.Fraser-Mitchell - M.Taylor, Hitchin Open (3), 1999: 37.Qxf3! Rxf3 38.Rxe7 Rxd3 during the game I thought I'd blundered (completely forgot the Bd3 en prise) but in fact White's 37th is the easiest way to survive ! 39.Re6 Bf4 40.Rf6 Bg5 41.Rg6 Bf4 42.Rf6 ½-½ Black must permit his bishop to be hounded ad infinitum otherwise he will lose it for White's advanced h-pawn.

8. L.D'Costa - D.Lemoir, Hitchin Open (4), 1999: White's scoresheet had Black's last move (40... Bd5) accompanied by a draw offer. White foolishly declines... 41.g5 Qd8 42.Ra6 Qh8+ 43.Kg3 Ne4+ 44.Kf3 (I assume Black must be in extreme time trouble, otherwise the game would have ended with White resigning here) Qh3+ 45.Ke2 Nxf2 46.Kxf2 Qf3+ 47.Ke1 Qe3+ 48.Kd1 Bb3# 0-1

9. Fraser-Mitchell, J (2066) - Thorfinnsson, B (2195), Monarch International (I.o.M.), 1999: 23.Rf7! Bxf7 24.Rxf7 Qxf7 spoilsport [24...Qd8 25.Nh5 Re7 26.Nf6!; 24...Qe6? 25.Rxf8+ Rxf8 26.Qxe6] 25.Qxf7 b5 26.Nf5 1-0
